

Cameron is a third year student at Osgoode Hall. His interest in tax law has been developing since working as a research assistant to Professor Jinyan Li in the summer after 1L, he is currently completing the tax law stream at Osgoode. Prior to law school he earned a BComm at McGill University where he studied International Business.